REBEL TROOPS MARCH ON MEXICO CITY

City Inaugurates Samson Ball Season With Half-Holiday

CROWDS GATHER EARLY TO BOOST
SAMSON TEAM IN GRAND OPENING
OF 1920 BASEBALL SEASON HERE

City Pushes Business Aside for Half Day to Take Part in Gala Celebration at Fair Grounds at 3 O'clock—Du Mont
Will Pitch.

WHAT IS HAPPENING TODAY

1:15—Band plays at Milwaukee and Main.

1:30—Auto parade starts from Milwaukee and High led by band. All banks close.

2:00—Stores close.

3:00—Game opens at Fair Grounds diamond.

Teams—Samson Tractors vs. Chicago Magnets.
Batteries—Samson: DuMont and Sheek; Magnets: Des Jardin and Reharr.Umpires—Meyers and Johnson.
Mayor Welsh pitches first ball; President J. A.
Craig of Samson catches it.

With stores, schools, shops and public buildings shut tight,
and a general holiday in effect, Samson Tractor baseball team meets the Chicago Magnets on the fair grounds diamond here at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the first home game of the season.
Both teams play here again tomorrow and also on Sunday.

Promptly at 1:15, the Bower
City band opened a brief concert at Milwaukee and Main streets, gathering a big crowd
from the large number of people on the streets, and then marched to the corner of Milwaukee and High streets, waiting for private automobiles to gather for the feature parade of the day.

Ownership of cars formed in line on Milwaukee street between High street and the Five Points and slowly passed through the center of the city to North Bluff street, where the band was loaded into motor cars. The parade proceeded to the fair grounds. Players of both teams, the Samsons arrayed in their brand
new uniforms of white with blue trim and white stockings, took prominent positions at the head of the column.

The day dawned auspiciously with scarcely a cloud in the sky, and though the sun was slightly hidden,
the weather is perfect for the national game. Warming up as the moving advanced, everything is ideal for a big opening day.

Magnets arrive at 11 o'clock
The Magnets arrived in the city at 11:00 o'clock from Chicago. They attracted considerable attention as they proceeded to their headquarters at the Grand hotel. The parade at the fair grounds began beyond a doubt that big time baseball has hit
the city to stay.

Special arrangements throughout the city have been made to handle the large crowd. The trolley company has repaired every car that it has in its barns and will place them about the city to carry on the game. Restaurants and refreshment shops have made plans to serve the large number of people who will arrive shortly after noon by rail and auto from nearby towns, especially Beloit. Special police have been posted at the grounds.

Clare of the swarm at the gate has been worked out in detail to avoid confusion. Members of the Samson Employees' association will handle
the crowds.

Among those in attendance are many city and business and prominent citizens in Janesville, and the heads of the big plant.

LUMBER INDUSTRY
SLIGHTLY CURTAILED
BY TIMBER STRIKE

Oshkosh, May 7.—Production of lumber camps, sawmills, and lumber factories affected by the strike of ternational union workers continued
in excess of 75 per cent of normal, according to O. J. Swan, secretary of the Northern Manufacturers' association.

More than 60 mills in Wisconsin and upper Michigan are running, according to Mr. Swan, and in no case is the demand for an 8
hour day with 10 hour pay, granted,
so far as he can learn.

The mill owners, Swan says, are being supported by public opinion as the farmers of the northern section oppose shorter hours because the 8 hour day would affect the already depleted supply of farm labor.

The strike was called last Monday.
No plants, according to Mr. Swan, have closed since the opening day
while several which shut down then have reopened.

Little trouble in Woods Sawmills and box factories were the principal ones affected. There was little trouble, reported, at Sawmills, while the saw and door factories in the Fox River Valley and at Wausau were not affected.

There has been no disorder, his reports show, except at Anglo where one man was slugged.

Negro Kills Woman, Falls
Dead as Police Chase Him

Austin, Tex., May 7.—After killing

after pursuing policemen and fell dead from exhaustion two late last night. He was negro.

EMMA GOLDMAN
IS HOMESICK FOR FRIENDS OVER HERE

Chicago, May 7.—Emma Goldman, the famous anarchist transported to Russia, was homesick
for the United States according to a letter from her made public by Dr. Ben L. Reisman today.

In the letter, written March 8
from Moscow Miss Goldman said:
"I miss America. I lived there 30 years, you know."

"Not a word has reached us
from anyone in the United States, so far. You can imagine how we feel about it."

Miss Goldman added she had not become active in social work in Russia because of her lack of language and because "I must familiarize myself with the new and strange situation."

AUTO IS SMASHED
BY THREE ENGINES

Lone Occupant, Charles Henning, Escapes with Cuts
and Minor Bruises.

The accident today was the second experience of its nature for Henning. Twenty years ago he suffered the loss of a limb
when he was run down by a switch engine in the Janesville yards.

Charles Henning, 48, escaped
death in the early today
when his touring car was smashed
into by a fleet of three heavy C. &
N. W. locomotives.

Henning suffered three bad gashes
on his head and face, a strained shoulder, a broken arm, and a general shaking up, although no bones were broken. He will recover, it was stated today at his home, 1111 West Eastern avenue, where he was taken after the crash.

On Way to Work
The accident occurred at 6:45 this morning, Henning being on his way to work at the Rock River Woolen Mills. The three engines, coupled together, were coming out of the yards on the Janesville branch when they struck the machine, a glancing blow, demolishing the front part of it and throwing it to one side so the driver was taken from the path of the locomotives.

With blood flowing freely from his forehead, Henning, attending cuts on his face, and to the nose, Henning was hurried to his home a short distance away, where wounds were dressed and a first aid kit was used. He remained conscious throughout, stepping from the car unaided after it had been struck.

No one was hurt. The engine driver, who was on duty at the crossing, failed to work, as usual,
and the locomotives, as stated,
were coming out of the yards.

whistle before approaching the cross-

LABOR LAYS BARE
ITS SMALL SHARE
OF WAR PROFITS

FEDERAL RAIL BOARD
HEARS DATA ON STUDY OF PROFITEERING.

RICH GOT RICHER
Working Man Contributed Only
Slightly to Increased Costs.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, May 7.—A study of profiteering in American industry made under the auspices of the railroad brotherhoods was presented to the railroad labor board today in support of the railway workers demands for higher pay and to refute charges that increased labor costs are responsible for the high cost of living.

Prepared by W. J. Lauck, former secretary of the war labor board, the study seeks to show that profiteering
in industry is the fundamental cause for high prices in practically all commodities. It gives many statistics to support that contention.

Hits New Millionaires
Calling attention to the many war
made millionaires, the study contends that a three fold relationship exists "between high prices, profiteering and the addition to the quota of millionaires" and that the increase in the wealth of the wealthy is an "unanswerable" refutation to all attempts to charge labor with profiteering and to all attempts to hold labor responsible for the high cost of living.

Danger in Reserve
"For, if invested wealth gets a larger proportion of the national income than formerly, the man who gives personal service or labor is forced to get a smaller proportion,"
says the study. "The menace of the future lies in the probability that the vast profits which are still held in hindsight will be capitalized in the past, under the pretext of a fair return on capital, those who own them
may continue to take the larger proportion of national income and the expense of great suffering on the part of the workers when the over-stimulation of war has passed away."

Sugar Dealers Make Money
Of the extraordinary increase in the price of sugar now amounting to 300 per cent the study says, the increase in the price of sugar has been less than 15 per cent.

The result of advanced prices according to quoted reports of 1919 was that the price of sugar was 100,000, thus the cost of sugar was of these concerns which it was said
rose from an average of $11,000,000 during the years 1912-14 to $34,000,000 in 1919.

In the meat packing industry where profits were said to have increased between 300 and 400 per cent
the study says, the cost of meat was less than 10 per cent.

The study also shows that a wage increase of 100 per cent

JOHNSON WILL NOT BE VICE-PRESIDENT

Washington, May 7.—Senator Johnson of California has supplemented the authorized statement of his campaign manager, Representative Nolan
of California, that he is not a candidate for the vice-presidency by making a formal and direct statement to the effect that he is not a candidate.

Senator Johnson has issued the following statement:
"Under the circumstances I will accept the nomination for the vice-presidency. It is amusing to me to see the new for vice-president are those who are most horrified at the thought of my nomination for the presidency."

WIFE OF GOMPERS
LABOR LEADER, DEAD

Washington, May 7.—Sophia Julia Gompers, wife of Samuel Gompers,
president of the American Federation of Labor, died Thursday night of heart failure after an illness of only three days. She was 68 years old.

The family of Mr. Gompers within a year and a half, his daughter, Sadie Gompers, died of heart failure. His father, a few months ago, and his brother about 60 days ago.

LONDON RESENTS
U. S. INTERFERENCE
IN IRISH AFFAIRS

London, May 7.—Only two of this morning's newspapers comment on the memorandum sent by American congressmen to the British government regarding the Irish situation.

The tone of their editorials is somewhat against "outside interference" in British internal affairs. "It is an elementary principle of international policy of most civilized nations that one state department should not interfere with the internal affairs of another nation," says the Graphic.

The memorandum to review the memorandum as a political move. "No legislature of any country has the right to interfere in the good relations existing between his nation and any other merely because he wants to attract votes to himself."

The newspaper also says that the Irish have the same address if wronged, that is given any other citizens of the United Kingdom and it points to the wholesale arrests of Irish in America as the "four seasons for millions."

This was announced at the convention here of the Millinery Jobbers' Association, when a letter was read from Ambassador Jusserand, declaring that the American creation made from material supplied by each of the 48 states, and decorated with nine parade plumes, each costing $500.

Milliners Hear Letter
The ambassador's letter, addressed to Henry S. Bernhard, professor of the association read:

"I am extremely sorry to hear of the death of the republic to inform you that he sincerely appreciates the motives of your offer, on behalf of the American milliners, of a specially devised hat for Madame Deschanel."

"As for the gift itself, since it is not possible for Madame Deschanel to receive, under such conditions, any gift of value, the president begs you not to realize your intention, for which he begs me, however, to tender you his sincere thanks."

DEEP WATERWAY
HEARINGS OPENED

Sessions in Canada Study Question of Lake Commerce.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
North Bay, Ont., May 7.—The International joint waterways commission today opened hearings here on the proposed St. Lawrence deep waterway. Sessions will continue through June at various Canadian and American centers.

The plan of joint development by Canada and the United States of the St. Lawrence ship canal is supported by the former country with the exception of the city of Montreal, and by 14 western and middlewestern states south of the border. New York is leading the opposition, seeing in the scheme a menace to the New York state barge canal and possible rivalry to the port of New York.

Provided in Treaty
The international joint waterways commission was created by a treaty between the United States and Britain relating to the boundary waterways signed at Washington Jan. 11, 1909.

The plan proposed is for a straight waterway from Lake Ontario to Lake Erie, a distance of about 100 miles, with a lock at each end.

From Lake Erie to Lake Huron another straight cut of about 48 miles long would be made with a lock at each end. The nine foot difference between the levels of the two lakes.

MacKinnon Strains Widened
The straits of MacKinnon and the Seulie MacKinnon ship channel would also be deepened and widened,
making ocean terminals at Chicago,
Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin,
Minnesota, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

Spokane Goes
On Downward
Census Path

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, May 7.—Spokane, Wash., ranking as 48th city of the country in 1910, had a decrease of 198 in population since 1900, according to the census bureau today.

The Washington city thus became the first of the cities in the class over the 100,000 mark to show a decrease.
Newport, Ky., and Joplin, Mo., both cities of the 30,000
class are the next largest cities
which have shown a decrease.

Between 1900 and 1910 Spokane's
population increased 183.3 percent.
Spokane, Wash., 104,204, decrease 198, or 2 percent.

Chicago, Ill., (revised) 8,572, in-

FIGHTING RAGES IN DEFENSE OF KIEV

Bolsheviks Put Up Bold Front
To Hold Ukrainian Capital.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Warsaw, May 7.—Bolshevik troops fighting in the defense of the city of Kiev, have strengthened their resistance considerably during the last 24 hours. The battle for the possession of the city is still raging, according to latest dispatches. The fighting is said to be particularly severe northwest of the city where the Bolsheviks are using artillery stationed just behind the front line entrenchments.

Bridges Are Repaired
It is assumed the Soviet army is bringing up artillery from east of the Dnieper river, as shells are gradually increasing as additional pieces are placed in position. Railroad and highway bridges in front of Kiev were destroyed by the retreating Bolsheviks but they are being rapidly repaired by the Poles.

Polish gains are reported further south. Ukrainian forces are driving southward from Odessa, and are reported to have captured the village of Kamionka.

Polish Troops Are
Repulsed by Reds
London, May 7.—Polish troops advancing on Kiev were repulsed by the Bolsheviks on the line of the Irpen river, it is announced in a soviet government communique dated Thursday.

REPORTS THAT SOVIETS
LOST KIEV ARE DENIED
Christiania, May 6.—Reports that Kiev has been lost by the Russian Bolsheviks are denied in a wireless message received here from Moscow.

A wireless dispatch from Lyons says Kiev has been taken by the Poles, the message says. "On May 4 and May 5, the soviet government authorities were in direct communication with Kiev which then was in the hands of the Bolsheviks."

STORE TO SELL MEN'S SUITS AT COST PRICE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Topeka, Kas., May 7.—One of the city's largest stores in this city advertises today that it will sell all men's suits for 24 days without profit.

At the end of the period, State Fair
Price Commission chairman says that he will make an audit of the store's books to ascertain whether or not the goods
were sold without profit, the proprietor announced.

If the retail clothing men of the country would only make a definite stand against the availing prices,
said the proprietor, "the manufacturer would be forced to reflect on the elements that control prices—these are labor and textiles."

NEW ROAD LAW FOR TOWNS IS DEFENDED

Publication Pleads for Trial of the New System in Wisconsin.

In the publication "Good Roads of Wisconsin" appears a defense of the new town road law which has met with much opposition in Rock county. It is here reprinted:

"Here and there dissatisfaction is expressed regarding the new town road law. In the towns there is a feeling of opposition. Information is that in some sections steps have been taken to evade the law. This was to be expected. Nothing new ever comes into being without opposition. Progress has always been opposed. Douglas Jerrold tells us of those who resist the people who have no regard for the venerable institution of the old moon. Opposition is expected when the public school system was inaugurated. The same opposition arose when an attempt was made to build the first railroad. The state aid road system was bitterly opposed. Every new mechanical invention or process has been met with opposition. On that same line, and made the farmer's life more livable was greeted with suspicion and opposition—the tractor, the threshing machine, the auto. The farmer at first was violently opposed to the automobile. We are all built on the same lines. Our minds and methods run in a groove of habit and it takes effort and time and education to lift us out of it.

Argument for Change

"When we look back at the theory that new things are wrong because new is a palpable absurdity. If it were true we would be sitting in caves of the skin of an animal. Everything about us today designed by the ingenuity of man, and we are not to be satisfied with a movement because it is new; give it a trial and see whether it is worth while. The effort in some quarters to evade the law, those who do this place themselves on a par with the much berated malcontents of great wealth, who retain high means to evade the law without breaking it. In principle it is the same motive. Human nature is the same. Here are some reasons for the new town road law.

"Wisconsin for the last 10 years has spent approximately $5,000,000 a year on her town roads, or $50,000,000 in all. For the last 10 years she has spent $50,000,000 on her town roads in eight years. Do our town roads show the evidence of having $50,000,000 on them? In the answer to the question the results have been meager and the millions of money or time—your money—has been wasted. You haven't got the roads you paid for in time or money.

"The system of working out the road tax was a method of evading the payment. It simply wasn't worked out. Can any sound reason be given why the farmer expects payment in cash for goods and services and is willing to pay cash for goods and services in every other form of activity and yet balks at paying his road taxes? Point out the difference.

Waste and Inefficiency

"Because a farmer can spend the time he employs in working out his farm tax to better advantage on his farm.

"Because there is a certain time during which road work should be done and at this very time the farmer is probably busy on the farm. This means work on the roads without adequate use of the road district system.

"Because the road district system is fundamentally wrong from the business point of view. There were 13,000 road houses in Wisconsin under this system, constantly changing from year to year. No business could be run on this system. A farm could not be made successful under this system. To make any work successful we must have a centralized, responsible control, experienced men in charge, devoting their entire time to the work without constant changes in the management. This is the method of successful business and the method of successful farming.

One Man System

"Because the one man system has been tried out and found to be the best. It is today the method followed in all the progressive states. Those great agricultural states, Iowa and Minnesota, operate under this system and would not consider returning to the old district method.

"Because the system has been tried in a number of townships in Wisconsin, with complete success—less money spent and better roads.

"Give the new town road law a trial. Don't 'hike' before you try it. Once you give it a fair trial you will be satisfied. Remember how you looked on the automobile at one time. You wouldn't give it up today."

CHARGES AGAINST BELOIT POLICEMEN FINALLY DISMISSED

All charges against three members of the Beloit police department—Ed Sutherland, Dan Torrisi, and Walter Lovelace—have been dropped upon unanimous verdict of the five and police commission. A. J. and Matt Hoffman demanded the removal of the three officers. A lengthy hearing was held.

The charges upon which the petitions were based were that the petitioners were beaten and imprisoned without just cause by the defendant the night of October 15, 1918, James later was arrested on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. James later was acquitted by a jury in the municipal court.

James was indicted against Sutherland and Torrisi in the circuit court in Janesville. The defense was that James was intoxicated and resisted arrest and that Hoffman threatened to use force. The defendants declared they used no force not necessary to subdue their prisoners.

Curzon to Hold Direct Conversations Concerning Cessation of Red Advance.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] London, May 7.—Great Britain is on the eve of negotiations with Soviet Russia, a Moscow wireless message today asserts.

Curzon, the British foreign secretary, the message says, has forwarded to M. Tchitcherine, a commissary for foreign affairs, a declaration in which direct conversations with General Wrangel, commander of the remnant of the Russian volunteer army, are proposed. These conversations, it is declared, are desired by Great Britain in order that definite negotiations may be begun concerning the cessation of the bolshevik advance into the Crimea and British officers would participate in the negotiations.

Soviet Russia continues the message, replied that the soviet government was prepared to meet the desire expressed in the British declaration and enter into negotiations with the British government, or anyone that the government might indicate concerning the cessation of the bolshevik advance into the Crimea and British officers would participate in the negotiations.

M. Tchitcherine in his reply, it is added, expresses his firm assurance that the agreement to begin peace negotiations will serve as a preliminary step and that a general agreement will be the final outcome.

News Notes From Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

Oh, if we could only get washer-women like Marie! We would cure us if we did have to give 'em seven dollars a day and carfare and tea at four in the afternoon and fried chicken for lunch. Would you believe that this Marie in the worn shoes and ragged costume with tousled hair is the same one who so often graces the Sennett pictures in a "one-piece."

It doesn't seem possible, does it, but it is one and the same girl. Marie disclaims any credit for doing her own washing or anything like that. She owns right up that she always has her done, but she plays the part of the humble wife of a lowly villager in "Back to the Farm" and so she has all the thrills of being her own laundress on the screen. As the office boy says in his oratorical way: "That those fair lips should touch—a clothesline!"

THE NEW REALART STAR
Wanda Hawley is to be starred in movies Realart.
Miss Hawley has appeared as leading lady for Fairbanks, Bill Hart, Charles Ray, Bryant Washburn, Wallace Reid, and Robert Warwick. Miss Hawley is a blond with gray-blue eyes.
She was born in Scranton, Pa., and announces her age as "permanently 18."

Her first Realart picture will be "Miss Gibbs."
AMBITIONS
"I would leave the movies and write poetry," says Naomi Childers. "That is, if I could write poetry." Nigel Barry says she aspires to quit acting and become a director.
Milton Sills wants to turn writer and write a book of philosophy.

FISHING LITTLE STREAMS

John B. Thompson

Nothing exerts mere thoughts toward angling than spring. The first indications of cold water fishing are the many early wild flowers that shoot up spontaneously from wet soil, the impatient angler as infallible signs that the streams are warming up, and that a few of the intelligent bass family are beginning to stir. The mist-laden hill streams took hold and I found myself on a spring morning, walking through the maple sugar camps, ready for my first day with militant small mouth bass.

For this time of the year the stream was much clearer than could be expected. Its environments promised much. Long ranges of rocky hills, places combined it to reaches deep water, which suddenly terminated here and there in merry shoals of surprising swiftness. There were fish there I realized at the instant of my first cast; two Colonel Fullers hardly seemed to touch the water when they received immediate response. Truly it was not from a red eye of mammoth size, but the rascal fought with all the skill and gameness of his kind. It was, however, landed easily. Little fish through sheer strength of man and tackle come quickly to landing net.

I tossed this one back to its element for it would have been a sacrifice to retain a small fish when the stream had not been tried well for better ones.

For a distance the narrowness of the stream deterred me from wading. I could remain a little ways from the bank, strike the likely spots without great effort or cause the least disturbance of the water. I felt well rewarded when I took my first real fish, a fighting two-pounder, in this manner.

The potency of the two colonels ended with the taking of this scrapper, for, starry as I was, I was unable to get another rise. Proceeding down the stream I changed to two Silver Doctors on No. 1 hooks. I had many times before proven their worth, and anger-like I was prone to give them an opportunity. The stream had changed its route, suddenly altering its southern course to one due east; a fast rapid cutting its way through high gravel banks. The form of boulders were many, but they were greeted favorably by me as they promised a better place for the dour warriors. But I had to take the water and fish carefully down stream, doing my utmost to cause no disturbance of gravel nor to the fish.

A huge boulder in the center of the stream caught my eye. I was swift to the right, and cast my pair of feathered deities, so that on alligned line, behind the big rock. From where I stood, at the instant the flies floated in toward the downstream, I saw the fish attach themselves to the flies. My rod responded and as one leap heaved vigorously in the air I saw that his companion had impaled himself on the other hook. The current, being broad and swift, led to lead a scrapy fish where you desire, but here the water was so swift and the obstructions so many that I had to exercise both strength and caution to keep clear of obstacles. Once I felt that I was about to lose the battle as the fish together, led for a log, but fortunately I was able to turn them midstream and momentarily kept them in the open. But the rascals made a most surprising effort to escape, and as I let its force bear against them, which put much strain on the light rod.

By keeping a light and maneuvering, I was forced to keep on down stream as there was for the while no favorable place to land them. But persistence won the battle. Soon the water became much shallower and the fish leaped repeatedly, the weight of one fish being the other's support. At the subsidence of the rapid they tried several spectacular upstream dashes without success. In a little pocket formed from an eddy, the water was quiet and I tempted the two therein, where it was no great matter to lead them into the landing net.

Ahead of me down stream the water boiled with a great display of wrath as it began to make its last rush to meet a big stream some five hundred yards away. The course was tortuous, filled with rocks and trees, a likely place, indeed, to find the big scrapy fellows.

As the water was shallow and had broadened out considerably, I entered the rapid until about waist deep. The lower end of a large red-oak log had a certain irresistible appeal. There the water slowed up into a small dark circular pool. My second cast brought my feathered deities right in the center. Then, to my great astonishment, a huge form shot from its depths, and tore down stream with my dropper fly. Just for a fraction of a second I checked to see if the strength of the fish was momentarily beyond my control. But it brought me a vision of the monster, up in the air, an angle, emerging in dark bronze creature of a size beyond anything I had heretofore had at the end of a leader.

Realizing that it was impossible to do as I wished to follow down the rapid at his will, applying the inhibitions of the tackle as I felt the gradual slack of line. Not gifted by nature with legs any too long, the big fellow led me time and again beyond the depths of my waters. Gradually, resourceful, leaping as only a mad small mouth can, until at every instant I felt sure my light tackle could stand the strain no longer.

The discomforts of the engagement were forgotten in my anxiety to land the fish. I had hope at times that they felt their slithering and no approached some obstacle in the stream. Once I felt sure that the battle would terminate in my favor, I bore with all the strength for the deep water, but unexpectedly shot up in the air and on falling back on the water darted like a streak of lightning for the cover of a large log. I realized if he made it there was no chance for his capture. No light tackle had even been devised to turn a harder than I had from his course. But the old leaping habit of the tribe saved me from further worry. In an effort to part from the hook he heaved the log he made a mad leap from the water and cleared the obstacle.

Then all was open water. As it came to the river with a big river was deep and placid. If I had only the patience and strength to hold him there! For 20 minutes I worked harder than I had ever done before with a fish, irrespective of size or kind. He seemed to favor the deep pool, obdurately keeping up his former tactics of boring in queer, sudden variations to aerial flights which, though remarkably spectacular, kept me at the circles of the fish begin to narrow. Occasionally he resorted to upstream rushes. But they were short and I recovered as he he had stilled as promptly as possible. Also I soon began to be able to change his course, and felt a noticeable diminution of strength on his part. Then I coaxed him carefully near shore, still a gleaming, fighting, active thing of polished bronze. All at once he escaped from the water and started another dash for midstream. But now it was certain he had expended most of his strength, for he responded to all my trial, rough tactics and brought him back toward shore. Slowly and slowly he yielded, but the fighting instinct was still prominent as he brought him to me and for a moment I wondered as I viewed his massive proportions, if other men had ever so easily captured such an engagement with such a militant big fish.

YALE AVIATOR WINS 25 MILE AIR RACE

(By Associated Press.)
Mineola, N. Y., May 7.—Yale won the 25-mile race, the opening event of the first intercollegiate aerial field day staged here today. Henry Thorne, pilot in the Ell plane, covered the distance in 14 minutes. Pennsylvania with Learsch, pilot, captured second place with a time of 16 minutes 10 seconds. Pittsburgh was third, Dussler having a time of 17 minutes and one-half.

CHICAGO STRIKE TO BE FELT HERE

Locking Up of Millwork Factories May Hamper Local Construction.

Further complications developed this week for Jansville builders who depend on lumber for interior trimmings when 130 factories turning out this type of work locked out employees who struck Monday for $1.10 an hour starting May 1.

The effects of this labor trouble will be felt by the building industry here should it continue. Coming simultaneously with the strike of wood and millwork workers up here is believed the situation will be cause for alarm, despite the lumbered building program local and in the face of statements Monday that Jansville lumber dealers had sufficient milled stock to last for several weeks.

The coming of better weather has permitted outside construction here to move more rapidly than during the past several weeks.

The labor situation on here is unchanged. The atmosphere is continually charged with rumors. A few men have been heard to say they will leave the city for higher wages. The situation of the lumber and millwork employers continues without new developments.

The Parker Pen building is being rushed. Contractors are handicapped somewhat by a shortage of labor.

TWO MORE HOUSES; THREE GARAGES

Two more housing building permits were issued today by Francis J. Blar, city building inspector, as follows:

Ernest Winter, $5,000 dwelling at 310 Fifth avenue, 28x28.

William Hall, $7,000 dwelling at 601 Chestnut street, 28x28.

Garage permits were issued to: O. Schoenrock, 321 Fourth avenue, and J. J. Smith, 1015 Mineral Point avenue. William Marbach secured a permit to build a garage and remodel a house at 1300 Sharon street.

Twenty-eight permits have been issued so far this month.

TRUCK AND TROLLEY CRASH; DOZEN ESCAPE WINDOW GLASS SHOWER

Another Jansville Traction Co. car was smashed up yesterday. A Samson truck driven by Oscar Kargberg and carrying a heavy farm vehicle, which extended over the sides of the truck sideswiped into the car, tore out four windows, jammed the frames and caused a general shakedown of the dozen passengers aboard, between Milwaukee and Main streets at 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon. It was at first reported that a little boy was severely cut by flying glass, but Officer James Ward who was on the scene reported that he did not receive an answer in the affirmative when he stepped into the car and inquired if anyone was hurt. Motorist Chesborough was in charge of the trolley.

SEC. POST APPEARS IN HIS OWN DEFENSE

Washington, May 7.—Appearing before the house committee today to defend his official conduct in alien deportations, Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of the labor department, charged that Anthony Caminetti, chief commissioner general of immigration, had delayed action in deportations by withholding cases so he might compile "an unauthorized and unlawful memorandum" recommending action.

Mr. Post declared that last March he changed the custom that had grown up in the department of permitting Mr. Caminetti to make recommendations and went direct to the record to make the decision himself. This he argued, was the only legally authorized procedure.

BANKERS OPPOSE U. S. LOANING HUGE SUM TO RAILROADS

Washington, May 7.—Bankers called before the senate interstate commerce commission today did not agree with the testimony of railroad executives that the federal government should loan $500,000,000 to the roads for new rolling stock.

Jerome G. Hanauer of Kuhn, Loeb and company, New York, chairman of the committee of investment bankers, suggested that congress extend the period of the $300,000,000 loan already provided, from 6 to 10 years; that some money be used in the betterment of terminals and perhaps in the increase of motive power; and that the roads be so managed as to expedite the movement of cars and "reduce to a minimum requirements for new equipment."

Chairman Cummins asked the opinion of the witnesses on a plan of giving a government guarantee for the payment of interest and principal on sums borrowed by the railroads for new equipment.

The securities issued would then sell entirely on the credit of the government," Mr. Hanauer replied, "and carrying a much higher rate of interest would badly affect the value of liberty bonds and all other outstanding obligations of the United States. Investors would naturally take the higher ones. In addition this would make it impossible for railroads to borrow money for their own needs on their own credit."

Mr. Hanauer and F. H. Allen of Lee, Higginson and company, Boston, who followed him, said the income tax had crippled the investing power of wealthy people.

MURDERER MAY BE ARRAIGNED, MONDAY

Papers binding over Clifford Logan, 22 year old negro, self-confessed murderer last night—alone—the prisoner whom he wanted after San Tuck, refusing to come without extradition papers. Accordingly, District Attorney E. S. Dwyer went to Madison today, to secure necessary papers, or to turn over Tuck to federal authorities on a charge of violating the Mann act.

Tuck is charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old girl, Ada Bullis, this city. The girl was turned over to federal authorities while on their trip, but police think otherwise.

"Corner" in Print Paper Is Charged Before Senate

Washington, May 7.—Charges of a "corner" in print paper were made today before the senate committee investigating the paper shortage by Cortland Smith, New York, president of the American Press association. Mr. Smith testified that print paper manufacturers were in a conspiracy to regulate both production and prices.

London.—The "plague of beggars" seems to be doing its worst in Madrid, now one of the most rapidly developing cities in Europe. The only city in Spain with a fast railway service in all directions; Madrid apparently is acquiring control of the business of the whole country and is slowly recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

This Habit Pays Well

"My son does not have a single habit," said a proud father some time ago.

But he was wrong about that. Of course he intended to say that his son had no bad habits. But there are many good habits as well as bad ones and those who want to be successful must form good habits to help them.

This boy has one very good habit

Every Saturday night he comes to the bank with a nice little savings deposit. He works in one of our many window stores. He draws a fairly good check each pay day. And he is building a snug bank account by the weekly deposit plan.

Do you have the weekly deposit habit?

The habit is not hard to form. It's like rolling a hoop—rather easy at first, but you get well started. Try it and see.

SON GETS PAID FOR 25 YEARS FARM WORK

(By Associated Press.)
Marquette, May 7.—John Alschwager of the town of Grover was granted a claim for $3,000 as a final payment for 25 years of labor against his father's estate in circuit court here.

Alschwager, according to testimony in the court, had made an agreement with his father which he was to receive $6,000 for his 25 years of labor, $3,000 of which he received at the time and the rest to be left in his father's will. Alschwager died and it was found that he had left only $5 to John, whereupon John filed suit for the $3,000 which he was granted by the court.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

JUST HOW WELL DOES JACK LIKE BARBARA?

Well, to continue my thrilling experiences at Nessa Sloan's studio, I was so delighted to see old Brisky walk in that I actually gave a squeal of joy. Nessa got it of course she would. Then he strode (yes, that's the word—Brisky always strides sort of) over to little me and almost embraced me then and there!

My savior came to the rescue, fortunately, and I side-stepped, discreetly, just in time. How Nessa did laugh. "We girls are all alike," said she, cheerily. "But I never knew that you knew my Brisky!" Her Brisky, indeed! I could have told Nessa a thing or two right there, but what good would it do either Brisky or myself? I slipped in my most stilted manner, and murmured something vague about having known him some time.

"Some time!" thundered Brisky. "Good Lord, Nessa, I've been in love with her for years!"

At this we all laughed like kids, and Brisky put an arm round each of us and plumped us down onto the divan.

"That's the whole trouble," he said mournfully. "I love each one of you to death—all of you at once—just can't help myself. Especially Brisky, who is the same before me, so they say, so what chance has a fellow, from the start?"

We had the grandest gossip for an hour, until Ned came in, carrying the evening meal in one hand and a rejected work of art in the other. He told me that he had just run into my Jack on the street, with a very pretty girl. Of course I smiled benignly at this news, and felt Nessa's appraisal eyes upon me. "Dear me, yes; one is apt to see Jack with a pretty girl most any time of day," I said in my most blasé manner. "His is a most modern figure, to say the least."

With that the subject was dismissed, and the talk reverted as it invariably does to women.

Brisky said that he had never seen so many beautiful women as he had this afternoon in his life. "They don't come any more beautiful anywhere in the world, I'll say," he assured us proudly. "High steppers, queens, every last one of 'em. No prettier sight anywhere than Brisky there on a summer afternoon. No siree."

We were in the midst of agreeing with him, when the knocker knocked, and at Ned's chime, "Come in," we should come smiling through but Jack, firmly entwined on Barbara's strong left arm!

There was a rather awkward silence for some strange reason. We all stared at each other for inspiration. Then Barbara, clever little mix, gurgled out, "Why, Lindsay, dear, how more than lovely to find you here!" I do not "get" that Miss Barbara at all times. Jack got a red red at sight of me and Brisky, or was it not the fact that he and Barbara had entered arm in arm, maybe? But with my usual dignity and tact I helped to make them all feel at home by chirping up, "Yes, indeed, and isn't it just wonderful to all be in the same boat?"

Some sandwiches from behind the screen, and that helped more than anything could have. I did notice that Barbara's cheeks were all flushed, and that she seemed rather nervous for some reason or other. None of my business, however. As I sat looking at Jack and her, it suddenly dawned on me that she would make him a much better wife than I ever would. And yet, strange to say, he wants me! I wonder.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl who has been building upon a solid rock. All my life I wanted to cry when I was sad, but I never did. I loved very much—very unworldly, (yet as I build up of very best material such a beautiful structure I just cannot tear it down. I have tried every way to remodel, but it will not do. I have even tried O'Reilly's little plan for undoing, but even that failed.

I am in school and trying oh so hard to forget. I get interested in new projects for a time, then they tire me and the old longing for the impossible gets the best of me. I just cannot give up my ideals. My common sense pleads with me and I try to give up this creation and start anew. Will you show me where I am defective? JUNTIA.

If O'Reilly has called, try Kipling. I wish the kid space here to print Kipling's "IF." No one with a discouraged or broken heart could read it without gaining new courage and comfort.

Keep up your brave struggle. If you can hang on to yourself now, contentment and even happiness will come in time, and you will be the winner, because you were master of your sorrow.

Your heart is only one of human things, even the most beautiful is aching right now. This is the time to let common sense guide you and to put aside dreams. Dreams lead back to the normal and sane in life. Try not to dim the beauty of your experience with tears. Keep that page of your life bright and turn the wheel without a sigh, trusting that the climax has not been reached and ahead is something even lovelier.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of nineteen. My father is dead, but he left mother and my three sisters a fairly good amount of money. We are not in need. I finished school bleepson melted butter, one-eighth teaspoon paprika, one-eighth teaspoon curry powder, one teaspoon minced onion.

Sauté and drain codfish. Mix with potato and butter. Add other seasoning and form in small balls. Roll in egg and bread crumbs. Fry in oil until browned. Melt butter. Dip each ball in melted butter. The latter method may be used if baked instead of fried in deep fat.

Indian Salad—The use of lemon jelly in this recipe makes it a good one for this time of the year when apples are likely to be a little lacking in flavor.

One cup grated coconut, two large apples, dried, two cups chopped celery, three pineapples cut in small pieces, one tablespoon of baking powder; this means that some baking powder must often be used in addition to the proper amount of soda.

Sour Milk Waffles—One egg, beat well, two cups sour milk, added to beaten egg; sift two cups flour, one teaspoon soda, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, add to egg and milk and stir hard until mixture is full of bubbles, then add one tablespoon of melted shortening and stir until blended. Heat waffle iron moderately hot, grease thoroughly, pour batter from pitcher onto center of griddle, cover with other half of iron, let cook about a second, then turn iron over quickly. Cook until nicely browned on both sides.

Breakfast Buns—One cup bran, one cup flour, one and one-half cups sour milk, one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon melted fat, one-half cup molasses, two-thirds teaspoon soda, one teaspoon baking powder, one-half cup raisins.

Dry ingredients mixed first and others added. Instead of stirring in the raisins about three may be placed in the top of each bun. Bake in gem or muffin pans.

USES FOR SOUR MILK
Sour milk is no tragedy. From it you can make cottage cheese, and remember that the whey left from making cottage cheese is very good to use as the liquid in bread making. Sour milk can be substituted for last year and am working this year. I am in love with a young man of twenty-one, but mother doesn't know it. It has not been made public yet and I do not wish to have it for two more years. It would break mother's heart if I told her because he is of a different religion.

See no harm because he is not of my faith. He is good, honest and upright man and is wealthy. His mother died this year. He keeps asking me to quit work and help him make a home. I think it would be better to wait, though. He is staying with his grandparents.

What shall I do? ANXIOUS.
Wait until you are twenty at least before you give your promise to marry the young man. If your religion is antagonistic I can see why your mother objects to the marriage. True lovers conquer even that obstacle sometimes. You are the only one who can judge the depth of your love. Remember that when you marry you are taking the most decisive step of your life, and you should be cautious and sure.

In reply to a MILLION THANKS: Under the circumstances you should marry. Neither of you should give up your religion since it means so much to you. The man should not be expected to any more than you. Yes, if you were married by the justice of peace you could attend your church, but you could not be a communicant and your marriage would not be recognized by the church.

sweet milk in any recipe for quick breads or cakes. The difference is that for every cup of sour milk, one-half teaspoon of soda should be used. One-half teaspoon of soda, however, is equivalent in leavening power to only two teaspoons of baking powder; this means that some baking powder must often be used in addition to the proper amount of soda.

66,000 VOLT LINE IS READY FOR USE

City Gets Wisconsin River Power Current Within Few Days.

Janesville homes and industrial plants will within the next few days receive electrical energy from Kellbourn and Prairie du Sac. The steel tower transmission line of the Wisconsin River Power company from Prairie du Sac to Janesville is completed and current will soon be delivered to the Janesville Electric Co. The aerials are all in and the line has been strung. Today the wires were energized between here and Madison and the procedure will continue intermittently during the rest of the week. This will permit the power company to make necessary tests of the line, etc., for the purpose of eliminating any latent defects that might cause an interruption.

The sub-station on Western avenue is fast approaching completion, the switches are installed, and as soon as lightning protection can be completed and tests made, Janesville will begin receiving its energy off the line.

Danger signs are being installed on the tall steel towers to warn boys and trespassers that the line is carrying high voltage current and that aerials must not be climbed by persons not authorized to do so.

The line is built for 66,000 volts. Half this load is on the wires now during the test.

Against the steam and water plants developing 1,500 horsepower to supply the city, Janesville will now have access to 40,000 horsepower from Prairie du Sac alone, and 11,000 from Kellbourn.

M'CALL NOMINATED ON TARIFF COMMISSION

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, May 7.—Samuel W. McCall, former governor of Massachusetts, has been nominated by President Wilson to be a member of the tariff commission.

Mark W. Potter, New York, president of the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio railroad, was nominated by President Wilson to be a member of the interstate commerce commission.

Mr. McCall will take the place on the commission which recently was declined by former Senator Theodore E. Burton, Ohio, who now is president of a bank in New York City.

Mr. Potter's appointment will bring the interstate commerce commission up to its newly authorized strength of 11 members. If all of the three nominations now before the senate are confirmed, Mr. Potter is a democrat and was nominated for one of the two positions recently created by congress in enlarging the commission.

PARIS EATS CAMEL MEAT; BUTCHERS BUY "SHIP OF DESERT"

Paris, May 7.—Parisians have the opportunity of tasting camel meat as a result of the sale of Ariette, the famous "ship of the desert," last the property of the horticultural gardens, to a firm of butchers. The cost of maintaining the camel was found too heavy to be borne by the management of the gardens.

Irish Message Causes No Stir in Downing St.

(By Associated Press.)
London, May 6.—Premier Lloyd George will not take cognizance of the message from American congressmen relative to Ireland.

"This sort of thing has ceased to cause any stir here," an official at 10 Downing street told the Associated Press this morning. "We have since come to believe that resolutions and messages coming from America are political maneuvering and that they do not represent American sentiment. Consequently they have little weight."

FARMERS PROTEST DAYLIGHT SAVING

Four Townships Fling Challenge to Janesville Against Non-Parking Zone.

Proposed adoption of daylight saving in Janesville is strongly protested by four farm bureaus in Rock county, who are in adjacent townships—Center, Magnolia, Spring Valley and Footville village.

"We just can't stand for it," they declare in a petition passed at a joint meeting in Footville Monday afternoon.

The same farmers are also opposed to adoption of parking ordinance here which would cause them difficulties and discomforts in shopping.

The resolution, adopted by a unanimous vote, follows:

"Resolved, That we, members of the different farm bureaus, are opposed to the so-called daylight saving, because it puts us to very great inconvenience and disadvantage in carrying on our farms. We hereby inform the citizens of Janesville that if they adopt the scheme we will be compelled to stop doing business with them. We just can't stand for it on top of the shortage of help. We can do our business at other places where we will be welcome and where they will give us some consideration. Neither will we stand for parking our cars outside the city and walking down town. We will go somewhere else."

"Be it further resolved, That our secretary be instructed to send a copy of these resolutions to the mayor of Janesville and the Gazette."

The communication is signed by C. A. Rosa, secretary.

FLOUR MAKES NEW RECORD HIGH PRICE

(By Associated Press.)
Minneapolis, Minn., May 7.—Flour yesterday advanced an advance of 50 cents a barrel. An advance yesterday in wheat with a good steady demand is the reason for the increase. Today's quotation—$16 a barrel when sold in 98 pound cotton sacks in carload lots, represents an advance of $2 a barrel for standard flour in a month.

ROAD TO ROCKFORD CLOSED NEAR ROSCOE

Janesville autoists contemplating trips to Rockford are advised that the Beloit-Rockford road is closed to traffic, from south of Roscoe to the Beloit Consolidated school. The following detour is necessary: Detour at Ralston's crossing, turning to the left for a short distance, thence south two miles, then turn to the right for approximately one mile, which will bring the traffic to the present concrete road.

MILK DEALERS IN MILWAUKEE HEARD

Market Commission Finds Increase or Decrease Would Be An Injustice.

Milwaukee, May 7.—That a raise of 1c in the price of milk would give the most successful Milwaukee dealers huge profits ranging from 55 to 94 per cent on investment and that a drop of 1c would drive every milk dealer into dead loss varying from 18 to 62 per cent on investment is the unusual fact revealed in the report on Thursday by the state division of markets on the profits and losses of Milwaukee milk distributors in 1919.

Summary of Report
1. The returns on investment of Milwaukee milk dealers in 1919 ranged from a loss of 37 per cent to a profit of 94 per cent. Of the eighteen dealers investigated, three kept no books, five lost money, six earned from 2 to 12 per cent, three earned from 15 to 19 per cent, one earned 27 per cent.

2. The actual net profit on each quart of milk accruing to the four most successful distributors ranged from 1.3 mills to 4.6 mills. The percentage of the consumer's price retained as clear profit by these dealers varied from 1.4 per cent to 3.6 per cent.

3. A raise of 1c in the price level of milk in 1919 would have increased the profits of the four most successful distributors to huge returns on investment, varying from 55 per cent to a minimum to 95 per cent as a maximum. A raise of only 1/2c would have created returns ranging from 37 per cent to 55 per cent.

Drop Means Loss
A drop of 1c in the price level of milk in 1919 would have driven even the four most successful dealers into losses varying from 18 to 62 per cent upon investment. A drop of 1/2c would have forced every Milwaukee distributor into loss, except two, who would have earned—respectively—100 of 1 per cent and 46 per cent.

4. Computing upon a year's basis and assuming other elements constant, a decrease of 10c per quart dealer to the farmer justifies the public in demanding a decrease of 1/2c in the price per quart charged by the distributor to the consumer. A decrease of 20c per can in price paid the farmer justifies a demand for a decrease of 1c per quart in the price charged to the public.

Upon the same basis, a raise of 10c per eight gallon can in the price paid to the farmer compels the distributor to raise the consumer's price 1/2c per quart or face loss. A raise of 25c per can paid the farmer necessitates an increase of 1c per quart in the consumer's price.

Three Courses Open
That the system of milk distribution to be pursued in Milwaukee in the future is a matter of policy upon which the people of Milwaukee must make their own determination is the position taken by the division of markets, which, however, suggests that there are three courses of action: Adhering to the present system; recognition of the milk business as a public utility and concentration thereof under one management, with government control of the price, or municipal ownership and operation.

Paris, May 7.—Hortense Schneider, the original Helene in Offenbach's opera "La Belle Helene," died yesterday, aged 82 years. The opera was first produced in Paris in 1854.

TAKING LIFE OF BABE OR MOTHER TO SAVE OTHER IS MURDER

(REV. H. C. NOONAN.)

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Milwaukee, May 7.—Declaring that a dozen good motives will not justify an evil act, the Rev. Herbert C. Noonan, president of Marquette university, branded as direct murder the killing of an infant to save its mother's life, or the killing of the mother to save the child's life. He reasserted his position on the question brought up by the resignation of five members of the teaching staff of the medical school, who disagreed with the university's policies. "The destruction of the life of either mother or child to save one of their lives is to violate the commandment 'Thou shalt not kill,'" he declared.

Not Religious Question
Father Noonan denied that the dispute question was a religious one, but said that it was based on ethical standards alone.

"It has been stated by men that are not friendly to the school that the university is now assuming powers that were turned over to the board of trustees of the medical school when the new medical corporation was formed in July, 1918, at the time of the $1,000,000 campaign," said Father Noonan.

"Printed copies of the articles of association which were in the hands of all the campaign workers at the time made it clear that the university authorities, and they alone, have the duty and the right to settle ethical questions and to fix moral standards."

Five Physicians Resign
The five physicians who resigned from the Marquette medical school faculty are Doctors Louis Warrick, Charles H. Stoddard, A. J. Patek, C. H. Davis, and J. D. Ladson. Several of the physicians announced that their resignations were due to a difference of opinion on "the university's theory that the life of the infant must be saved before that of the mother."

Milwaukee "Ad Men" Invite World Convention

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Milwaukee, May 7.—The Milwaukee Association of Commerce has given its endorsement to the campaign being conducted by its advertising division to bring the 1921 convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World to Milwaukee by authorizing an appropriation of $35,000 to finance the convention. The Milwaukee "ad men" have opened a special bureau to promote their campaign and are planning to send a delegation of more than 100 to this year's convention at Indianapolis to back their demand for next year's session.

ICE BREAKING TUG TO SEARCH FOR LOST SHIP

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Christiania, Norway, May 7.—An announcement is made that the ice breaker Svalbard will leave Bergen next Tuesday for the Kara sea, where it will attempt to find the steamer Solovoi, which has been ice bound in the Arctic for the past months. Eighty persons are on board the Solovoi and last accounts stated they were in danger of perishing from cold and hunger.

YOUR CITY IS GROWING FAST.

The industry that doubled the population of Detroit, Cleveland and Toledo in a few years and made Flint, Michigan, spring from a village to a full grown city of one hundred thousand is with you now.

From the effect produced in these other cities you know how your own will prosper and develop. You have already seen homes pop up almost over night in astonishing numbers, but you have seen merely the beginning. The opportunities of Janesville are already known in all parts of the country. New business and new manufacturing enterprises will be crowding for room and you will be looking for a home away from the smoke, dirt, and noise.

Why not steal a march? Build your home on River Heights Now—up in the pure, fresh air where you and your family can enjoy life and thrive in an atmosphere of cleanliness.

RIVER HEIGHTS is the logical path of development. Within easy walking distance of the Samson plant, and in close touch with the new city of homes that is being built near it. It is destined to be one of Janesville's most desirable sections, and aside from its beauty as a home site it is an investment that will constantly and rapidly increase in value.

There are a limited number of especially desirable lots in River Heights, inside the city limits; these will be sold to home builders only. Let us solve your building problem from the ground up. Build your own home on easy payments. Use the rent money to make the payments.

The experience of many of the nation's richest men has proven that the safest investment, and the one always likely to be profitable is the purchase of real estate in the suburbs of a growing city. That opportunity is here at your very door NOW. Will you let it in?

River Heights lots go on sale May 8th. The choice lots will soon be taken. Make your reservation now and secure a home site in this beautiful subdivision at a price that will make you feel well pleased with yourself in a few weeks.

It will cost you nothing to investigate. Come to our office tomorrow and be shown.
